PRINCIPAL’S MESSAGE

Kindergarten Orientation

Last Wednesday we welcomed the 2015 Kindergarten cohort to our Kindergarten Orientation Session. It was very exciting to see happy little faces in our school. Thank you to Mrs Gardner and Mrs Kellert for organising a successful Kindergarten Orientation Program. Thank you also to our school leaders who demonstrated the school values of respect and responsibility as they greeted new families at the front gate. The children will be here again this Wednesday, and the following Wednesday for transition visits to the classrooms.

World Teacher’s Day

This Friday, 31st October is World Teachers Day. This special day focuses public attention on the contributions and achievements of teachers at all levels of education. It reinforces the work of teachers in providing the next generation of the world’s people with the knowledge, skills and understandings they need to shape and manage their lives in the 21st century. I am sure you will join me in thanking the teachers at our school for the wonderful job they do.

Parking Around the School

A reminder to parents and caregivers picking up/dropping off their children or visiting our school; please remember that parking across driveways is not permitted, just as it would not be permitted anywhere else. Even if you intend only to leave your vehicle for five or ten minutes, please be respectful of our neighbours by not parking in or across their driveways. They cannot enter or exit their homes if you do this. Respect our neighbours by keeping clear of their driveways.

Spider Warning

Last week a trapdoor spider was found in the school grounds by a visiting parent. Often confused with funnel-web spider trapdoor spiders are usually shy and retiring although will stand up and present its fangs if harassed. I encourage all parents to talk to their children about safety around spiders. If they spot a spider and feel unsafe they should report it to a teacher. As the weather warms up we will see more spiders around the school. Please remind your child/ren to zip up their school bags.

Enjoy your week!

Principal
